President's Notes

- James Darnell

I am looking forward to seeing everyone at our SFMS annual meeting in Pascagoula, MS on November 7th and 8th.

Our Host: Mississippi Gulf Coast Gem and Mineral Society (MGCGMS) has negotiated with the new Hilton Garden Inn in Pascagoula for special room rates ($89.00), queen or double.

Please make reservations at: (228)-762-7182. We will also be having our Cracker Barrel, morning meeting and banquet at the Hilton Garden along with our annual installation of officers for 2015.

This information may be a little early, however it is my hope that we will see more of our club presidents (or designated representatives) and State Representatives at this meeting.

Next month I will be providing information on banquet reservations and menu.

At our quarterly meeting in June, we discussed phasing out our stamp program since we are not having much activity with sales. Carolyn Grothaus (our stamp person) has suggested that instead of discontinuing the program that each state have someone designated to process the stamps for sale on the internet. Carolyn said she would be able to instruct how to do this. This sounds like a possibility since each of our clubs have amassed quite a lot of stamps. Carolyn has been overwhelmed with all the stamps the various clubs have sent in. I would like to have comments from all our clubs regarding this subject.

Nominations for next year’s officers are being accepted by Danny Griffin.
(gcjinc@comcast.com)

Gail Ferguson (the State representative for NC) has asked if anyone has any used lapidary equipment. She is working with one of the local trade schools to set up instruction in the Lapidary Arts. Please call Gail to find out more (317)-440-1111. Email:
transformationartsgail@gmail.com

Gail became NC state director earlier this year and is extremely excited about visiting all her clubs and getting to know the members.

I attended the annual AFMS meeting in Tulsa, OK this July and was quite impressed with the number of federation members attending. I will have minutes from that meeting next month to share.

Although we do not participate in the AFMS Endowment program, I do have tickets available for next year’s Endowment drawing. At this time we do not know what items will be offered.

Finally, please contact me with your comments and suggestions.

jamezrobdarn@bellsouth.net  My emails may come out saying from ATT MAIL CENTER and may end up in your spam folder, please do not discard.

Handling Hot Potatoes

Bob Green, Safety Chairperson

Special Note: The days are getting shorter, as you all know, and many folks are still in their summer habits. I see a number of vehicles going down the road with their lights off. They can see, but unfortunately they cannot be seen as clearly as they should to avoid being involved in an accident. This past weekend, I made a trip to Young Harris, Georgia, travelling on a very rainy Friday. Leaving Clayton, Georgia, I came up behind a large gray car with no taillights. I assumed that this was a car with their auto lights on and their headlights were on. After passing this gentleman, I realized that his headlights were OFF. Here it was a heavy rain and a gray car and no lights. I certainly hope he made it safely to wherever he was travelling and I was certainly glad that he was behind me.
So you may be able to see, but can others see you?

This month we will talk about handling hot horseshoes. My kin folks who lived somewhat back in the woods used that expression to address various issues about how quickly someone learns that they have picked-up or handled something that is not kind to their wellbeing.

My wife and I were at the July Franklin, NC gem shows. One of the vendors had a very neatly penned sign stating that the goods on the table were hot. The goods were darker colored specimens and his warning very appropriate. Several years ago, at the same show I found a marvelous piece of Labradorite. There was water in the tub displaying these and being a keen observer of these fine specimens I picked one up and very quickly doused the specimen and my hand into the tub of water. It is amazing how hot these can be when exposed to direct sunlight for a period of time. And very quickly my vision of handling hot horseshoes can up.

This caution can be applied to many things. This includes the hot sand at the beach, while you are traversing the distance from your shade umbrella to the “cooling” water. I enjoy watching the “Survivorman” television programs as I have mentioned in the past. One episode and I am not sure whether it was Les Stroud or someone else, the show was about Aboriginal survival in Northern Queensland, Australia. This was extremely interesting as it viewed the way of life some centuries ago, while being transported to the coast in modern vehicles. Anyway, toward the end of the show, the host was complaining about an injured toe, he had stumped it on a rock while trying to gig a ray. Though not an open wound it was quite obvious this was impacting his walking. The Aboriginal chief noted that he would do better if he ditched his sandals and walked bare-foot in the sand. The best comment about this from the host was he really appreciated the way he was received by the tribe and if he ever got out of the “thousand degree sand” he was certain he would be better. Though the sand was nowhere near the stated temperature, if your feet are not used to this, it can be extremely painful.

Now, we all (maybe not all) enjoy an outdoor fire, as long as it is done safely, a fire pit being my personal preference. As you are tending the fire, some pieces may need to be adjusted in the fire. The use of tongs is strongly recommended or else you may get to enjoy how quickly you learned to examine hot horseshoes.

Oh, for those who have never had the opportunity to watch a blacksmith make horseshoes, I encourage you to attend a fair where this tradition is still practiced. If you have never tried “smithing”, it really does build muscles and since you are close to the heating furnace, you do lose a lot of water weight. So, building muscles and losing weight cannot be too bad. Just understand where the saying came from. And keep hydrated.

My wife bought a reconditioned century old forge. She really enjoys beating metal. She also did get plenty of exercise pounding metal. If you get into “smithing” remember this is not a hobby for those that abhor safety equipment. Proper gloves, eye protection and a leather apron are the minimum. Also, steel toed boots and do not try this with shorts on, the hot sparks can inflict a substantially unpleasant burn.
So, back to watching out for the hot things around you, while in the kitchen, practice safety. Picking up a hot cast iron frying pan is also a lesson in itself. Pot holders, appropriate cooling times, etc are required. Always have a fire extinguisher close by and remember water on a grease fire leads to a very spectacular flash which will quickly transform your kitchen into a raging inferno.

So be careful and be safe.

2014 AFMS Club Rockhound of the Year

- Marty Hart, SFMS Representative to the AFMS Rockhound of the Year Committee

There are only a few months left to submit your 2014 AFMS Club Rockhound of the Year. Be sure to not let this year slip away without taking the opportunity to honor a special member or couple in your club that have done so much to benefit your club. Share what these members have done and why you are proud to have them as members in your club by submitting them as your Rockhound of the Year. The process is simple, so don’t let these members continue to go unrecognized.

- Each club may submit the name of one individual or one couple in your club per calendar year.
- Additionally, each club may also submit the name of one junior member in your club per calendar year.
- Each club determines their set of criteria for selecting the “Rockhound of the Year” and/or “Junior Rockhound of the Year”.
- Submissions consist of approximately 75 to 100 words of why the club would like to honor the individual or couple members. In addition, include the name of the club, who is making the submission, and a mailing address for receipt of the certificates.
- It is not a contest. All submissions that meet the requirements will be honored.
- Email your submissions to ACROY@gemizo.com. An acknowledgement of receipt will be sent when it is read. If an acknowledgement is not received, assume your message has not been received.
- Proper submissions will be forwarded to the SFMS Newsletter Editor, and the AFMS Rockhound of the Year Chair, who will forward the submission to the AFMS Newsletter Editor.
- Pictures may be included, but may not be printed in the Federation Newsletters.
- Certificates from the AFMS and SFMS will be mailed to the address provided.
- Be sure and honor them at you club by including them in your newsletter, and presenting the certificates. Clubs can do even more to make the event special.
SFMS WORKSHOPS UPDATE

Roy Deere, Education Committee Chair

This year the Southeast Federation of Mineralogical Societies continues our long history of offering weeklong classes in Jewelry Making with our 38th annual workshops. Our next 2014 workshop will be taught at the Wildacres facility in North Carolina. These classes are conducted at a beautiful mountain top retreat just off the Blue Ridge Parkway. They provide a fun filled vacation which includes lodging, food, and instruction for less than the cost of a hotel!

Our website sfmsworkshops.com provides schedules and details for each class as well as instructor information. It also has a pdf registration form that can be filled out and printed to send to the registrar. See our class schedule for the subjects included in this years’ classes. All classes are not offered at each workshop. In addition to the classes, we have many other activities associated with our workshops. These include interesting evening programs, campfire, and our exciting auctions, rocking on the porch, many other fun activities and tailgating. A campfire at Wildacres is usually held mid-week (weather permitting), often with a spontaneous sing-a-long or storytelling session, or even student vocals or instrumentals...followed by tasty s'mores! Our much-anticipated auctions are always a hit and offer an opportunity to pick up some nice items at a great price. If this sounds like a great week, it is! We invite you to join us and spread the word about the SFMS workshops.

Since the September session at Wildacres is rapidly approaching us, I have a short recap of the September session classes (Note—these are mostly my comments instead of instructor write-ups):

Beading Special Techniques: Students in this class will learn to make necklaces, earrings and pedants using beading cord techniques from: Kumihimo, Viking Knit, & Herringbone Stitch. Kumihimo is an old Japanese art of braiding that is thousands of years old. Viking Knit is a looping technique that preceded traditional knitting by centuries and was used by the Vikings for jewelry. Cords will be made using 26 or 28 gauge cooper wire and number 11, 8, or 6 seed beads. Herringbone Stitch or Ndebele Stitch has been used by the Ndebele tribe in southern Africa for centuries. The cords are made of pairs of beads placed side by side so that they stack at a slight angle. We will used different beads and fire-line to make the cords.

Cabochons: Anita's classes focus on calibrating a finished stone using a template to check for accuracy. The cab must fit into a "finding" in order for the student to be successful. The class will cover identifying the good, the bad, and the ugly stones to cut, techniques for attaching a stone to a stick, and different types of polishes for different types of stones. The student can expect to create several finished jewelry pieces as well as 10+ cabochons during the week.

Casting: If you want an introduction the professional process of casting, this is your class. Bill has been casting for many years, studied with several experts, and is now operating a specialized business in casting Orchids. If you twist his arm really hard he might even show you some of his Orchids. He also loves to cast small "add-on" objects for his Silversmithing projects. He will teach you proper sprueing techniques to insure good casting results. This may be the most important thing that you will learn since it can allow you to cast large numbers of items in one flask.

Chain-Maille, Beg & Int.: Roy Deere will be offering a September class that covers both Beginning & Intermediate Chain-Maille Jewelry. Both classes will be offered at the same time with projects that are appropriate for the experience level of each student. Beginning students will learn the proper way to open/close jump rings, basic patterns of linking the rings to form intricate chains, & finishing techniques to make the chains into wearable jewelry. The Intermediate class will introduce the student to such advanced techniques as non-round jump ring shapes, jump rings made from different wire shapes, beaded enhancements, mixed metals, dangles, drapes, and many other enhancement techniques that can be applied to traditional designs to make them very unique. All students will also learn to cut their own jump rings.

Chasing & Repoussé: Join us for an in-depth week of study to learn and master the basics of chasing & repoussé. Our class features step-by-step instructions that introduce and reinforce the basic techniques of moving metal in this ancient art form in which a flat sheet of metal affixed to pitch in a bowl is manipulated using punches and hammers to impart a three-dimensional pattern and/or shape. We work on jewelry scale projects that enable students to complete several finished pieces during the week. Surface and background textures will be demonstrated as well as ways to patina and color the metal of the finished jewelry. Beginning projects emphasize low relief chasing & repoussé skills and then students will learn the techniques used to generate large relief or high volume work such as animal subjects. In addition, we will discuss and demonstrate how to make and heat treat chasing & repoussé tools as well as discuss alternate methods for creating chasing & repoussé. We explain, we demonstrate, we explain again, and we give individual guidance. We answer questions and offer lots of tips but most of all we have fun!

Cold Connections & Enameling: Join me for a fun class with loads of techniques covered. We will use a hydraulic press, and make dimensional pendants, and press out shapes that will be utilized during our Painting with Fire session. We will shape, dap, dome, texture and fold form metal and then using a simple torch we will cover many ways to enamel beads, and metal. Finally we will learn several cold connection techniques to combine all our components creating unique and eye catching jewelry. Time permitting we will cover several simple wire shapes and forms.

Flint Knapping: We are delighted to offer our first course in Flint Knapping by Michael Miller. We are very fortunate to have such a qualified instructor. He has been teaching Flint Knapping for over 15 years and his knapped replicas can be found in private and public collections in all 50 states and around the world. This class will focus on replicating stone tools made by prehistoric Native Americans. Beginning level students will learn to work flint with percussion and pressure flaking techniques.

Gem ID: Teresa Polly will be teaching a Gem ID class for us. Teresa has a GG from the GIA and is currently studying for an FGA from the Gemological Association of Britain. She currently works in the Gemroom at Jewelry Television and is the President of the Knoxville Gem and Mineral Society. The course will be an Introduction to Gem ID. It will cover operation of most gem ID instruments and typical stone inclusions and how to tell natural stones from lab created stones.

Seed Beading: Gail DeLuca will be teaching a relaxing but full week of fun with seed beads, appropriate for beginners to advanced level beaders.

Silver 1: Bev Schabilion who is a gold & silver smith from the Spruce Pine area will be teaching a Silversmithing class. In this classes each student will learn many, many techniques from beginning a piece of jewelry to final finishing: proper use of hand tools, soldering, saw piercing, appliqué, filing, forging, decorative elements, forming, grinding, polishing, specialized texturing with a Foredom and rolling mill, and an array of tips, tricks and techniques that Beverly has learned over 40+ years of experience.

With September less than a month away it is important that your reservations be made as quickly as possible. Some of the classes are filling up and the best way to make sure that you get your choice for your favorite class is to register early.

Registrations for our other workshops are in process at this time. People who are interested in the October workshops need to make their reservations now to make sure that you get the class that you want. Call the registrar at the number shown on the schedule with any questions that you may have about the workshop or classes. I encourage you to register for the workshops on your calendars and plan on joining us for a wonderful jewelry vacation at our enjoyable locations. See you at an SFMS workshop soon.

Welcome to our 2014 edition of the SFMS Workshops. This is our 37th year of offering one of the best values in education that is available anywhere. Our workshops are taught at beautiful locations in the mountains that provide beautiful scenery and great food. Wildacres is located just off the Blue Ridge Parkway near Little Switzerland in North Carolina and William Holland is located in Young Harris in Georgia.

This year we will have different prices for each location. William Holland decided not to raise their prices this year so the rates will be the same as last year at William Holland. Wildacres decided to raise their prices this year so the rates will be $15 more than last year. Consult the registration form for all of the different price variations.

The schedule for most of the classes is attached to this newsletter. We are still working on a couple more classes and should have the details on them in a couple of weeks. The SFMS Workshops 2014 website is operational. Visit SFMSworkshops.com to view the website. Details on the added classes will be posted on the website as soon as we have commitments from the instructors. Some of the instructors have not yet gotten the details on their classes to me. This will also be added as the information is provided by the instructors.

You will find details of each class, instructor bios, project pictures for the classes, location info, and a new registration sheet that can be filled out on the website and printed to send in with your deposit.

I encourage you to sign up as soon as possible before the classes that you are interested in fill up. The earlier that you sign up the better it is for you and for our staff. Your choice of classes may decrease as other people register.

The price covers lodging, meals, and instruction (materials purchased from instructors are extra). If you simply look at this as a vacation, you would spend at least that much on a hotel for the week and not get food and instruction. Also compare this to some of the national bead shows and other educational programs which charge that much for a ½ day class (no lodging or food here).

Registration Instructions

Select the registration entry from the 1st menu on the website. (You can also use the printed one attached here; but the online one is easier to use and provides us with a typed copy.)

Click the circle by the session that you want to attend (if you want to attend more than once you must register for each session on a separate form). On the printed copy you can circle the one that you wish to attend.

Fill in the information for Student 1.

If you are bringing a spouse or another person fill in the section for Student 2.

Please fill in your name, 1st choice (class name), a 2nd choice class and the “Taken Before” info for each choice.

Repeat this on the 2nd line for student 2 choices if you have filled out the student 2 section.

Check the box in Accommodations for the type of room that you want. If you want to share a room with a friend list the friend’s name in the Roommate section. The rates for the types or rooms are shown in the bottom section. If you have rate questions call or email the registrar for you workshop location.

Click the Print button above the form to print out 1 or more copies of your form.

Send the printed form along with a check for the full amount or a $50 deposit to the registrar for the workshop that you have chosen. Note – if you cancel your reservation the $50 deposit or $50 of your full fee will not be refunded except in certain cases which must be approved by the education committee.
