President's Report

Greetings all,

Hats off to the Huntsville Gem and Mineral Society for doing an exceptional job hosting this year’s SFMS annual meeting. Bill Friday went out of his way to make this an enjoyable and trouble free event. His club even treated us to our Saturday banquet meal at no charge. I particularly enjoyed attending their show between the twelve hours of meetings I attended Friday and Saturday. The vendors were of excellent quality. There were several interesting lapidary displays including three entries in the competitive case category and a striking fluorescent mineral display. This, along with craft demonstrations, gave many enjoyable education opportunities. It was particularly gratifying to spend a few minutes watching the obvious fascination of the children screening for treasures in the fully functional flume setup. And I must say that the adults with them were looking pretty enthralled as well. The club must be doing something right because the parking lot was full the entire time I was there.

I feel that our meetings were very constructive and we accomplished the necessary business of passing a 2020 budget and the election of officers for the coming year. Wayne Dodd presented a nearly completed (for now) version of the SFMS benefits presentation we have been working on. By the time you read this our state directors should be able to access this for distribution throughout their territories.

I very much hope that using this program will help to improve all of our members participation in the federation. We have plenty of opportunity for improvement as we prepare for our next annual meeting where we will be hosting the AFMS annual meeting. Although our latest meeting was productive, 74% of our board of directors was absent. This means that most of our members were completely unrepresented. Surely this is not the best we can do. We need everyone’s help to make our group as good as it can be. Even in the unlikely event that it should prove impossible for anyone from your club to attend our business meetings you should still stay in touch with your state director and keep up with the Lodestar newsletter. We will all become stronger by working together.

Committee Reports

Safety

Greetings all, fall is getting here and a relatively cool fall, it was about 37 in Young Harris, GA this morning. It was in the low 40s in the up-state of SC.

So, the annual fall warning, hypothermia is awaiting those that are not careful. Several years ago, like 25, we visited a client in the Seattle area. He was an avid mountain climber and had climbed Mt. Rainer a number of times. He and his hiking mates we doing a short hike and left the station at Paradise, WA and started their hike. At the station it was about 45 degrees and misting. He claimed that he had hiked in that weather before and was wearing hiking shorts, which he later claimed was not the smartest move. The group was not trying to summit; just have a leisurely hike in the beautiful area. He did not remember the time, but apparently several hours, he said, he wanted to get away from the group. The hiking group realized he was at the beginning of hypothermia, so they got him back on the trail and down to the station. After a time; and he had no recollection of the time, he recovered. Now, we have that kind of conditions in the mountains and especially later in the fall, so take a lesson from a guy that had been there, dress in layers and do not get over-heated and if you sweat too much without proper wicking material, you could be in danger of hypothermia.

Now, back to nicer weather, the rule of dressing in layers also applies to doing yard work or playing outside with the kids. My wife and I have been fortunate to visit the Alps in Europe and every time we went, we always dressed in layers. We were cautioned to take that approach by the locals in southern Germany. In many areas, it is very easy to have 70 degrees in the valley and then take a cable car to about 10,000 feet above sea level and be in the snow and if you are really unlucky, the clouds can be really thick at that level. So, plan for the potential of different conditions. If you go to Mount Mitchell in NC, even in July, you can be amazed at the difference in the conditions.

Again, when hiking, wear the proper foot wear. Even in airports when you are hiking from one end of O'Hare to the other, flip flops are not appropriate. OK, maybe for some folks, but certainly not me. And if you are planning a longer hike, or hunting, breaking in new shoes is not a good idea, if you are doing an all-day jaunt.

Now to your hobbies; always have proper lighting and proper eyewear, hopefully adequate safety glasses. If you watch home improvement or flipping houses programs, check out the number of folks not wearing the proper personal protection, whether it be safety glasses, gloves or steel toed shoes, though the latter is hard to check. If they have on flip flops, they fail. I have never seen steel toed flip flops. (Anyway, watching those wearing flip flops hustling through the airport is always interesting. Their feet are tougher than mine.)

Hunters, and folks living close to a hunting area, be careful and do not look like wild game this fall and winter. There are too many folks that do shoot first then hope it was not a person. One of my distant memories was about a local store owner that went bear hunting wearing a black sweater. He did not return home safely.

So enjoy the fall and have a Happy Thanksgiving, after you have an enjoyable Halloween and be safe.

Most contests are two level; compete at regional SFMS level, advance to the national AFMS level. Wayne Dodd asked where to find the Rockhound of the Year information. Marty indicated that it was on our website, but that this wasn’t a contest, but just a nomination possible by each club, to honor valued club members.

15. Old Business:
   a. Presentation of 10 Points – SFMS Benefits – Work in Progress
      Wayne Dodd proclaimed that this project will be continually evolving, possibly never complete. Jerri commented that the ultimate distribution and implementation will fall to the State Directors. Also, the collection of information of clubs with needs and strengths will depend on State Director’s knowledge of their clubs. There was a brief delay to get the technology in place to display the latest version. The entire document was reviewed by the group, numerous suggestions and additions were made. Jerri took notes for Wayne and the Benefits Committee to continue their revision process. Wayne asked for people to continue sending him ideas and suggestions for the next 30 days. The next revision will hopefully be ready for wider distribution in a digital format that could be used in clubs for programming. It was suggested that the revision would/could be broken down in sections, each expanded with greater detail and action items.
   b. Rockhound Round-up – Next set of dates: March 6-8, 2020. Discussed the rates for tailgate space, and Jerri stated that the plan is to maintain the introductory rate of $25 would continue for this first two – three years, raising gradually starting year four, with rate not to exceed $50 per space. She will be revising the application form slightly, getting it out within next week or so. We will be tightening up the spaces, so it is not such a trek to get around the Roundup. We will continue to increase and coordinate advertising with the Park. Craig will work on improving roadside signs.

The Memphis Archaeological and Geological Society (MAGS) hosted the October 12 DMC field trip to Senatobia, MS. 60 rockhounds (2-legged kind) and 2 rockhounds (4-legged kind) assembled under a picture-perfect day. Just as nice as the weather was the abundant mounds of gravel and chert available to search. And boy did those 60 rockhounds search and search. With a break for lunch the rockhounds returned to the piles and the last one was carted off in the back of a pickup trucked loaded with buckets and buckets of material. One thing for sure there are a lot of agate magnets. These are the rockhounds that walk up to a gravel pile and agates just line up and jump into their buckets.

A special thanks to the Memphis Stone and Gravel Company for hosting the trip. This was the fourth time they have provided the DMC a trip location.

SFMS Benefits of Belonging

The Benefits of Belonging to the SFMS started at the Cracker Barrel session of the 2018 Annual Meeting. The efforts of the 10 points were further discussed at the 1st quarterly meeting of 2019, then a presentation was provided at the 2nd quarterly meeting. A new presentation was provided at the recent 2019 Annual Meeting, where some changes were made to consolidate, and narrow the points down to 9, instead of 10 points. Going forward updates provided will be entitled SFMS Benefits of Belonging.

For more information, please be sure to read the President’s Message provided by Reggie Bolton!

Together the SFMS and your clubs can work together to share and exchange information, as the changes unfold. Please see where you can help to expand on, and provide as much information on all of the benefits of belonging points.

For a listing of the original 10 points, which will soon be updated, please see the last page of this newsletter.

Look for updates and on the SFMS Benefits of Belonging points here in future newsletter editions.

Heavy mineral Sand Field Trip - Southern Ionics Minerals    Sept. 24, 2018

It was a bright sunny day and a wonderful trip to Southern Ionics Minerals Company. The trip was enjoyed by 22 people from across the south. The mine is located approximately 20 miles northeast of Folkston, Georgia. Lori and Charles Carter hosted the field trip which included the complete heavy mineral mining production and processes. Between the production area at the wet mill and the dry mill is about 35 miles. The connection is made by large dump trucks which delivers the raw sand the the dry mill plant.

The tour started out at the field office with a safety briefing by Jim Renner. We all put our safety vest and hardhats on and carpooled to the wet mill and excavation site. First we stopped by the dry pit and debris removal area. We could see the large trucks which hauled tons of raw sand and to the debris removal machinery. This is where the roots and hard pan is removed before the wet sand is pumped to the wet mill about three quarters of a mile away. The wet sand is pumped to the mill through HDPE pipe. Less abrasion and wear, plus the pipe is somewhat flexible.

Now the carpool drove to the wet mill and parked our cars near the mill structure. The wet mill floats in a pond about one hundred and fifty feet by one thousand feet in length. The group was instructed on how to climb the stairs and what to watch out for on our way up. Soon we were at the very top. Seventy five high, the highest structure in the county. What a view. You could see the entire mining process all the way to where the raw sand was dug and to the wet mill and five miles around.

Here the raw sand in concentrated through spirals on multi levels. From here the wet sand concentrate is pumped about a mile to a loading facility. After seeing the control room we made our way down to the cars and drove to the Loading site. Once the trucks are filled they are adjusted to proper weight and sent to the dry mill facility.

We drove back the the field office and got into our own cars for the drive to the dry mill facility. First we stopped at the Satilla River for a lunch break about 12:30 p.m. Jim shared many interesting facts concerning the river and the area. This spot is about eight miles North of the Field office location. With lunch finished we left the river and drove north and west about 25 miles to Patterson, Georgia and then north another 3 miles to Offermen where the dry mill is located.
The group found parking in front of the office and plant building. We assembled in the main entrance for another safety talk by Jim. Now we started our tour lead by Jim into the inter workings and lab areas. Once we finished this phase we went outside to start our way up the wet portion of the separator structure. There we could see how the wet sand was separated and graded into various types of minerals. We then went back down to ground level and to another stairway which lead up to the dry mill processes. Here the sand is further graded by static and magnetic machinery. The sand is very dry at this point in the process. It was very hot and noisy in the large building. After passing through we came to the control room. Very COOL in there. It was more than just A/C. Ah! We could see several monitors which had flow diagrams shown on them. Sand in here and Sand out there. The dry sand was separated and sent to the very large storage bins next to the separator building. We went down 3 flights of stairs to under the storage bins. Jim described the loading process. While standing there a loud sound was heard that meant loading was about to start, so we all had to make haste and leave.

When that started the group made our way back into the main office and multi purpose building. Here Jim had 3, 5 gal. pales nearly full of pure processed product. There was ilmenite, staurolite and zircon. The buckets were opened and we could get a sample. WOW! Great ending to a very interesting day of exploring and education. Now about 2:30 p.m. Everyone departed for home.

Much thanks to Jim Renner and Southern Ionics Minerals for being supportive of sand collectors and our group. Exciting and appreciated.
